

couldn't gulp any longer. His mouth overflowed. Tom got very sleepy. Water filled Tom's lungs. And then... Tom died!

Tom looked up at the sky, wondering why water was falling down on him. It made him thirsty. He opened his mouth wide to capture some of the raindrops. His mouth filled with water. It felt so good. Tom gulped and gulped the water. He closed his eyes. More water filled his mouth. He was just so thirsty. He gulped and gulped some more... until he

One day Tom and Rodrigo were outside, fanning their feathers, when a cloud moved in front of the sun and raindrops began falling from the sky. Rodrigo, the Enriched one, said "Tom! Quick! We have to run to the barn." But Tom wouldn't listen. He didn't understand about rain. Rodrigo ran to the barn, where he was safe.

Once upon a time there were two little turkeys. One, we'll call him Tom, was a simple little guy. He liked to eat bugs and fan his feathers in the sunlight. Tom had a friend, who we'll call Rodrigo. Rodrigo was like Tom, except for one key difference. Can you guess what that is? Rodrigo...was Enriched! Tom was not.

Rodrigo felt happy as he watched his friend drown to death. Rodrigo was Enriched. Rodrigo was smart.

The Technology makes you fluent in every language. The Technology makes you socially uncanny. But you need to be Enriched, like Rodrigo, not dumb, like Tom, to get The Technology. It's never too late for Enrichment. It is too late for Tom.
